

The graph represents the water consumption of a typical household for a week. Use the graph to answer the following questions.

How much water is used to shower and to do gardening?

By how much does the consumption of water differ between dishes and for human consumption?

What is wrong with this family's water consumption? Can you suggest something to rectify it?