

Five steel rods, each with a radius of x meter, fit exactly into a steel pipe with rim thickness x meter, and a length of l meter.

Deduct a formula for the unused volume inside the pipe (if for instance it needs to be filled with some kind of epoxy isolation), and then deduct a formula for the total volume of steel required